DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

- 1. In respond to applicant's amendment filed June 30, 2002, claim 1 has been amended, and claims 1-4 are pending.
- 2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 have been considered but are moot in view of new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

- 1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
- 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
- 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
- 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or non-obviousness.
- 4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oliver et al. (US 6026103) in view of Myers et al. (US 6567450).

With respect to claims 1-4 Oliver et al. ('103) shows in figures 1,3,45,7,8 and discloses in the ABSTRACT a gas laser device comprising: a laser chamber, a pair of main discharge electrode oppositely arranged and spaced apart, a cross-flow fan located within the laser chamber (Fig 1: 18,20,22,10,46), and a magnetic bearing structure for support the cross-flow fan (Fig 3: 30-45) (Fig 3,4,6,7,8) wherein a diameter of the fan is 150mm or less (5"=127mm) (Col 3: 55-60). Myers et al. '450 discloses discloses in the ABSTRACT and columns 29-30:10-55, the gas discharge laser capable of operating at 4K Hz or greater, where rotational speed is 3500rpm with the fan unit of 5". For the benefit of having a magnetic bearing structure supporting a cross fan performing at 5000rpm or less, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Myers et al. '450 the element as taught or suggested by Oliver et al. '103.

With respect to claims 2,3,4 Oliver et al. '103 discloses in column 3 lines 55-67, the 150mm or less blade and the magnetic bearing designed to operate at 5000rpm or less (Col 3: 65). While the fan and bearing capable of operating at 5000rpms or less, it would have been obvious that the fan designed to provide the fan peripheral speed at 27m/s or more. Discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Conclusion

- 5. The prior art made of record and relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's discloses.
- 6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP 706.07. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
